Character

In the glass, this fresh and fruity rosé has a raspberry-pink gleam. On the nose are aromas of strawberry and raspberry with floral and slight cherry notes, and these are again apparent on the palate. Here the wine comes across as lively, fresh and very soft, with a full and harmonious body and a long finish.

Producer

Bodegas Borsao

More than 2000 hectares of excellent vineyards, three wine cellars and exports to over 50 countries worldwide: this is Bodega Borsao in Campo de Borja D.O. Viticulture has existed in the region ever since the 12th century. The exceptional climate and the excellent influences from the Mediterranean and Atlantic can be put to perfect use here to the benefit of the wines. The region is known as the 'Empire of the Garnacha' because the grape originated here before being exported from the Kingdom of Aragon to Europe during its expansion. Bodegas Borsao is passionately committed to high quality and value in everything it does, which was rewarded almost 10 years ago by Wine Advocate with the prestigious title of 'Winery of the Year'.
